I love English

Last Monday morning, Tracy was playing with her friends, Jimmy and Peter, in the playground before lessons started. Their classroom was not near the playground, so they left their school bags on the ground.

The first lesson was Maths. At the start of the lesson, Tracy discovered that something was wrong. 'My Maths textbook is missing[1]! I put it in my school bag this morning,' she said. 'My Maths textbook is missing too!' cried Jimmy.

Tracy explained to her teacher, 'I'm sorry, Miss Taylor. I had my Maths textbook this morning, but I can't find it now.' 'I can't find my Maths textbook either!' another classmate added.

At recess, more things went missing. 'My sandwich is missing!' shouted Tracy. 'My sandwich is missing too!' Jimmy yelled[2]. The children were worried because someone was stealing things from their school bags and lunch boxes! They wanted to solve the mystery[3]. Suddenly, Tracy had an idea.

Early next morning, Tracy went to the playground with Jimmy. They left their school bags on the ground again. They did not play but hid behind the bushes[4]. Tracy had a camera to take photos of the thief. 'Why doesn't the thief come?' Jimmy asked. 'Probably because it's still early. Let's wait!' suggested Tracy.

Ying Wa Primary School (26/27 Division 1)
Primary 4 Dictation 1 scope

Date of Dictation: 17th September, 2026 (Thursday)

Part A: Vocabulary (15% @3, Sp.-3 P./C.-1)

assembly	recess	Chinese
Computer Studies	General Studies	Visual Arts
Maths ✧	making crafts	reciting poems
doing experiments	doing exercise	musical instruments
challenging	interesting

✧ British English ("Maths")

✧ They treat the full word mathematics as a shortened form that keeps the final "s" because the root word historically derives from a Greek plural.

Part B: Lighthouse (pp.8-9)(70% @3, Sp.-3 P./C.-1)

From “Last Monday morning,” to “…. Suggested Tracy.”

Part C: Unseen (15% @2, Sp.-2 P./C.-1)